Wednesday, February 27, 2008:

20h30 "Species of the Mediterranean and their journey to extinction", Maria Garcia, Marine Biologist

María García is our presenter for February's chat, informal presentations organized by the Maritime Center – Barcelona, in conjunction with other organizations. MaritimeSaraos is a monthly gathering of professionals and persons with an interest in maritime affairs.

During her presentation, Maria will speak on important endangered species of the Mediterranean to bring attention to their plight, in an effort to educate and awaken an interest in reversing their progression toward extinction .
